SENIORS’ AGENDA
ANNUAL REPORT 2019
SANTA CLARA COUNTY SOCIAL SERVICES AGENCY
Department of Aging and Adult Services
Our Work Continues

As designated Age-friendly communities, Santa Clara County and each of its 15 cities commit to improving policies, creating programs, and forging new partnerships to enhance livability not only for older adults, but for all generations. During my six-plus year tenure, seeing the Seniors’ Agenda take root and grow throughout our community has been a professional high point in a long administrative career. Everyone who has responded to a survey, participated in a community forum, or attended a Network Summit is committed to being engaged and promoting a better way of living and working together for the benefit of all.

This year’s annual report highlights the dedication that so many community leaders, aging service professionals, and others from diverse backgrounds offer to educate and enrich our community. Hosting forums to address serious topics including isolation, pedestrian safety, and elder abuse; maintaining events to promote physical activity and socialization; and approaching new ideas to consider how we care for others and ourselves are just a few of this year’s accomplishments to acknowledge. As usual, it has been a year filled with memorable events and opportunities to be proud of as well as an opportunity to think ahead about how to best to continue our county-wide partnerships towards Age-friendliness.

As I prepare for my retirement from County service, I am heartened that the dedicated work that has defined and contributed to the Seniors’ Agenda’s success will thrive under new leadership and chart new territory in the coming years. Santa Clara County, as an innovator in addressing the increasing needs of its elders, is to be commended for its thoughtful, progressive approach to aging gracefully as well as recognizing that our path to success must be a collective effort. Our work continues...

The World Health Organization (WHO) established the Age-friendly City designation in 2005 as a response to the growing demographic of older people throughout the world and the growing urbanization of the population.

Over the intervening years, hundreds of cities around the world have embraced Age-friendly ideals and are creating programs to incorporate the goals developed through the WHO. Today, there are 937 cities in 46 countries covering 240 million people worldwide forming a global network that allows cities to tap into national and global research, models, and best practices.

The WHO Age-friendly process is a five-year cycle of continuous improvement. WHO wants cities to use the eight domains of livability for assessment, planning, implementation, and evaluation.

An Age-friendly City is an inclusive and assessable urban environment that promotes active aging. According to the World Health Organization, an age-friendly world enables people of all ages to actively participate in community activities and treats everyone with respect, regardless of their age. It is a place that makes it easy for older people to stay connected to people that are important to them. And it helps people stay healthy and active even at the oldest ages and provides appropriate support to those who can no longer look after themselves.

Santa Clara County is one of first of over 67 Dementia Friendly communities in the United States. Dementia Friendly Communities foster access and engagement to support a growing number of individuals with dementia and their family and friend care partners.

On June 21, the Alzheimer’s Association’s Longest Day, the Seniors’ Agenda hosted a Dementia Friendly Communities Summit. Mary Liveritta, retired Deputy Director of the Department of Health and Human Services for Nevada, spoke about lessons learned from the implementation of nine Dementia Friendly Community projects in Nevada. The 90 attendees learned how local cities and organizations are creating a better community for those living with dementia with virtual reality training, museum tours for those with early stage dementia, and training staff and seniors to be Dementia Friends. Speakers included Claire Day, Alzheimer’s Association; Jenny Berryhill, Milpitas Age-friendly Taskforce; and Vince Amazona, Care Indeed. Peining Chang, Alzheimer’s Association, shared the inspirational Dementia Friendly work of communities around the world.

Sunnyvale was the host site and Mayor Larry Klein became the first Mayor in Santa Clara County to become a Dementia Friend.
Twice a year, the Seniors’ Agenda Network Summit brings together nearly 200 professionals, aging advocates, and elected officials to actively engage in meaningful learning to strengthen our community for older adults. Age-friendly efforts are highlighted and new resources for the community are shared.
This January, the Seniors’ Agenda celebrated the Year of the Pig at its 11th Network Summit, by bringing over 130 community partners together to continue the momentum of the Age-friendly Cities initiative.

For the first time, the Summit was hosted by the City of Morgan Hill. Newly elected Supervisor Susan Ellenberg commenced by sharing her commitment to older adults. The always popular retired county planner, Don Weden, spoke about the major demographic and economic forces that are re-shaping our County in his keynote presentation, Santa Clara County 3.0.

Special guests included: San Jose State Nursing students from the classes of Professors Daryl Canham and Toby Adelman; Morgan Hill Mayor, Rich Constantine; and members of the County’s Senior Care Commission.
Supervisor Susan Ellenberg and Campbell Vice Mayor Susan Landry welcomed over 150 professionals, aging advocates, and elected officials, who came together at the August 28 Seniors’ Agenda Network Summit.

Tripp Mills, Deputy Director of Senior Services at the Los Angeles LGBT Center, presented on “Beyond Safe Spaces for LGBT Older Adults,” which was well received. Our local panelists included Maribel Martinez, Director of the County of Santa Clara’s Office of LGBTQ Affairs; Gabrielle Antolovich, Board President of the Billy DeFrank Center; and Julie Bates, Associate State Director of AARP California.

AARP sponsored the refreshments for the Summit held at the Campbell Community Center.

LGBTQ Older Adults
On April 26, 2019, 88 individuals participated in a roundtable to discuss social isolation among older adults, jointly sponsored by Age-Friendly San Jose and Age-Friendly Silicon Valley. The roundtable participants heard a panel of experts about preventing social isolation, recognizing the effects of isolation in older adults, and providing services that help combat isolation. In a series of small group discussions led by practitioners, the participants were able to suggest prevention activities and services in several critical areas.

Information from the discussions was recorded and is being reviewed to develop strategies to prevent isolation and provide services for San Jose’s and Santa Clara County’s older adults.
Oral Health for Older Adults

The first meeting of the Oral Health for Older Adults subcommittee brought together key stakeholders from senior nutrition, nursing, dental hygienists, geriatric care managers, senior health and wellness specialists, public health, and aging and adult services to address the lack of dental services and barriers to receiving dental care for older adults. This is a subcommittee of the Oral Health Plan for Santa Clara County administered by the Department of Public Health. At the August meeting, a list of recommendations and gaps in services was developed and shared at the Special Hearing on Older Adult Issues in September.

The goal is to improve the oral health of older adults in Santa Clara County.

Traffic Safety Community Network: Safe Routes for Seniors

The Traffic Safety Community Network identified “Safe Routes for Seniors” as one of the four priority areas for the next three years. This was in part because the highest percentage of pedestrian fatalities are those over the age of 65.

The Safe Routes for Seniors subcommittee has completed a collision analysis to highlight the high incident areas. Gilroy, Mountain View and San Jose (Tully area) were the three cities selected for education and walk audits conducted by older adult pedestrians. The walk audits will provide information for proposed changes in infrastructure or behavior.
Falls Prevention of Santa Clara County regained momentum in 2019, hosting two successful quarterly meetings in May and August. With nearly 50 attendees at each, clinicians, community partners, academics, and advocates for older adult health had the opportunity to strengthen countywide approaches to falls prevention.

The May meeting featured a panel of speakers from the Santa Clara County Fire Department, San Jose State University, and Rebuilding Together. In August, attendees had the opportunity to learn about the risks of polypharmacy in geriatrics and tools to promote September as Falls Prevention Awareness Month.

Volunteer Driver Programs in Santa Clara County

Last year, an estimated 14,000 rides were provided by volunteer drivers from programs at Avenidas, R.Y.D.E. (five west county cities), Heart of the Valley, Portuguese Organization for Social Services and Opportunities, and the City of Morgan Hill’s pilot program: Getting Around Town.

For the first time, The Seniors’ Agenda convened all the Volunteer Driver Programs to share best practices and challenges, and to consider ways of supporting one another. The first action items were to track rides and participants, demonstrate different software used, and look for shared funding opportunities.
House-Sharing Program

An outcome of the Seniors’ Agenda was to advocate for a House Sharing Program, which was launched in August 2018. Catholic Charities coordinates the House Sharing program with a grant from the County.

They have had great success in the first year, making over 23 matches, with an average rent of $866. The average ages of providers is 69 years and seekers is 56 years.

Volunteer Managers Network

Since 2016, the Seniors’ Agenda has played a key role in supporting a network of volunteer managers in non-profits and government, including those who serve the older adult population. A group of over 40 volunteer managers hold quarterly meetings for networking, professional development, and promoting volunteer opportunities, especially for seniors who are retired. VolunteerMatch has presented on: Optimizing Usage for Recruitment and the Recruitment and Care of Older Volunteers.
Caregiving: Revisited with Caremapping

Atlas for Caregiving is on a mission to achieve transformative change in our communities through groundbreaking research, modern technologies and the personal experiences of caregivers and those who support them to achieve. One tool they have developed is the CareMap. An Atlas CareMap is a diagram of a person’s family care ecosystem, showing who is caring for whom and how. The use of an Atlas CareMap can help people deepen their understanding of caregiving situations, plan for potential difficulties, manage the people involved, identify missing people and services, and enhance communication with those involved.

The Department of Aging and Adult Services is the first agency to evaluate how the Atlas CareMap could be utilized by social services staff. A caremapping training was piloted among several DAAS staff members, with evaluation provided by the Office of Research and Evaluation. The question was whether the CareMaps should be used or adapted to be used to better support family caregiving and enhance the DAAS staff’s assessment and outcomes for clients. Staff feedback showed that the CareMap could be beneficial with clients. In addition, the participants reported that their personal caregiving situations were improved by the training. In the next few months, CareMap workshops will be offered to all DAAS staff.
Senior Safari

Happy Hollow Park & Zoo is a place for the young and the young at heart. To better serve older adults in our community, Happy Hollow Foundation has opened its doors for six straight years for Senior Safari. Visitors age 50 and up are invited to take over the iconic San Jose park in a kid-free environment. Older adults enjoy the fresh air and exercise, animal meet-and-greets, zookeeper chats, dancing, art, and hula hooping.

This program is designed to help older adults improve their health, avoid social isolation, and enjoy a unique environment that stimulates both mind and body. Senior Safari admission and parking are free, and guests are welcome to stay for the day after gates open to the general public. Last year’s attendance was over 3,000. As of August 2019, participation has doubled.

The County of Santa Clara has resource tables in July and September for attendees to learn about services and opportunities for older adults from County agencies, including Valley Medical Center, Emergency Services, Senior Nutrition, Public Health, and Aging and Adult Services.
In October 2018, the Seniors’ Agenda hosted a series of Lives Well Lived screenings, with filmmaker Sky Bergman, in Palo Alto, San Jose, and Morgan Hill.

The film Lives Well Lived celebrates the incredible wit, wisdom and experiences of adults aged 75 to 100 years old. Through their intimate memories and inspiring personal histories, 40 people share their secrets and insights to living a meaningful life. Their stories made everyone in attendance laugh and cry, but mostly, they inspired us all.

State Assemblyman Ash Kalra was inspired enough to bring the film to the State Capitol. A viewing of Lives Well Lived was held in Sacramento in February, sponsored by We Stand with Seniors, which is the statewide campaign to implement an Aging Masterplan for the State of California.
Senior Resource and Wellness Fair

The 28th Annual Senior Resource and Wellness Fair was held on October 16, with 700 attendees and 75 resource booths and health screenings. This was the third year that it was co-sponsored with City of San Jose and San Jose State School of Social Work.

Since the Age-friendly initiative started, three more cities have organized Health and Wellness Fairs. Cupertino’s first Wellness Fair had 200 attendees, Santa Clara held their second annual fair with double the attendance of the previous year’s fair, and Morgan Hill expanded their Resource Fair to a Healthy Aging week in collaboration with the Morgan Hill Chamber of Commerce.

Senior Bullying 2.0

After last year’s training on Senior Bullying, nationally recognized expert, Dr. Patrick Arbore from the Institute on Aging, returned in March for Senior Bullying 2.0. The training furthered the discussion about how institutions and organizations can address this prevalent problem. Professional Continuing Education Units in a variety of fields were provided at no cost to the 80 attendees.
Older Americans Month

On May 7, the Board of Supervisors declared May 2019 as Older Americans Month, celebrating the many contributions of older adults in Santa Clara County. Over 30 community partners and Social Services Agency staff joined Board President Joe Simitian to recognize the collective impact of older adults on the well-being of the County with the theme, “Connect, Create, Contribute.”
World Elder Abuse Awareness Day Forum

World Elder Abuse Awareness Day brought together the County’s Adult Protective Services program, the District Attorney’s office, and over 50 community partners to hear Paul Greenwood, retired Deputy District Attorney, County of San Diego, present Forgotten Victims No More: Putting Elder Abuse in the Spotlight through Collaboration and Teamwork.

This yearly forum better equips everyone to address the mistreatment of elders and build a stronger community that protects and empowers older adults. WEAAD is held in support of the United Nations International Plan of Action acknowledging the significance of elder abuse as a public health and human rights issue.

Colleen Hudgen was honored with the Community Partner Award for her thirty-five years of hands-on administrative experience managing health and human services programs for the frail at-risk older adult. For the past eighteen years, Colleen was the Executive Director of Live Oak Adult Day Care Centers.

Supervisor Susan Ellenberg gave the welcome and presented a proclamation from the Board of Supervisors.
Supervisors Cindy Chavez and Dave Cortese held a Children, Seniors, and Families Committee Special Hearing on Older Adult Issues on September 18. Topics included: Elder Abuse, Frauds, and Scams; Mobility and Transportation; Long-term Services and Supports; Caregiving; Housing; Social Participation and Volunteerism; and the PG&E Emergency Shut-off.

A full dais of County leaders heard from a panel of 12 experts as well as over 30 public comments, which will lead to recommendations for closing gaps and better serving older adults. This hearing will inform the development of the County’s Age-friendly Action Plan and potential new resources and policies.
2019 Aging in America Conference

Twenty-five professionals in aging represented Santa Clara County at the American Society on Aging Conference in New Orleans this past April.

This interdisciplinary conference brings together over 4,000 attendees from across the country. A presentation on Age-friendly Collaboration between the county and cities was presented by Diana Miller (SCC Seniors’ Agenda), Roshni Shah (SCC Social Services Agency), Debbie Vasquez (City of Morgan Hill), and Tracey Gott (City of Sunnyvale).
NEXT STEPS

Reaching our goal of being the first county in the United States to have all of its cities become part of the World Health Organization’s Global Network is only the beginning. The Seniors’ Agenda is intentionally creating policies, programs, and partnerships that advance an inclusive and accessible urban environment that promotes active aging.

The WHO Age-friendly process is a five-year cycle of continuous improvement. WHO wants cities to use the eight domains of livability for assessment, planning, implementation, and evaluation. In the next year, we will launch a three-year plan of action informed by the Special Hearing on Older Adult Issues, along with the Age-friendly survey, focus groups, and Community Conversations. This plan will include measurable outcomes developed in the ten logic model workshops held in 2019. As each city focuses on their local priorities, the Seniors’ Agenda will convene all the cities to share best practices and provide a learning forum to further all of our efforts. We will also share the assessment, key findings, and proposed plan with County leadership and align the recommendations from the Special Hearing with current priorities. We look forward to the development of the California Master Plan on Aging which will be completed in October 2020.

The Seniors’ Agenda will continue to be the backbone organization to build a strong network of professionals working with older adult populations by providing opportunities to learn from innovators and experts in their fields. Together, we will transform, expand, and create innovative policies and programs to make the County of Santa Clara a great place for all ages.
